5 THINGS TO KNOW

WELCOME TO METRO.US

JOE PANTORNO, SPORTS EDITOR

It's not often that baseball's two biggest rivals meet in the playoffs. In fact, the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox — two of the most historic teams in the game — have only met three times in the postseason. Friday night marks the fourth as the bitter enemies face off in the ALDS, a best-of-five series that is sure to re-spark a hatred that has been largely dormant for the past 14 years. Get your war paint ready and take a look inside as we bring you up to speed on this monumental upcoming series.

COMIC CON FANS OUTRAGED AS 7 TRAINS CANCELED

1 Are you one of the approximately 100,000 people expected at New York Comic Con this weekend? Were you hoping to get to NYCC 2018 by taking the almost-new 7 train extension to 34th Street-Hudson Yards, the only subway stop in the otherwise transit-barren west side of Manhattan where the Javits Center sits? The Metropolitan Transit Authority has decided to suspend 7 train service in Manhattan during NYCC 2018 weekend so workers can perform signal modernization. Beginning at 12:15 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, service on the 7 train will end in Queens at Queensboro Plaza, and won't resume until 4:30 a.m. on Monday, Oct. 8. At least out-of-town fans staying an extra night can get to their flights at LaGuardia Airport? In place of the 7 train, the MTA is running free shuttle buses between Times Square-42nd Street and 34th Street-Hudson Yards, with promises of additional buses standing by in nearby depots to meet demand. The Javits Center is also served by the M12 bus line. EVA KIS

TRANSALT DIRECTOR QUITS, JOINS BIRD SCOOTERS

2 Transportation Alternatives Executive Director Paul Steely White is leaving the nonprofit to join Bird, the company behind the electric scooters taking over cities across the country. White has worked at Transportation Alternatives, known as TransAlt, for more than 14 years, according to the organization. Under his leadership, the nonprofit — which aims to "reclaim New York City's streets from the automobile and advocate for better bicycling, walking, and public transit for all New Yorkers" — has pushed for changes including increased protected bike lanes, pedestrian plazas, a lower citywide speed limit, and the banning of cars from Prospect Park, Central Park and Times Square. White will remain with TransAlt until mid-November, after which he will assume his new role as director of safety policy and advocacy at Bird. Bird currently does not operate in New York City as electric scooters are illegal here. However, a few New York City Council members are working on legislation to legalize electric scooters. They've brought attention to this effort with a few events in which they ride Bird scooters themselves.

PROTESTERS DEMONSTRATE AGAINST BRETT KAVANAUGH

3 Protesters opposed to Supreme Court nominee Brett Kavanaugh hold a "We Believe Survivors" banner in the Hart Senate Office building in Washington, D.C., on Thursday. Senate Republicans pushed toward a make-or-break test vote on Kavanaugh as key GOP holdouts Jeff Flake and Susan Collins said an FBI investigation prompted by sexual misconduct allegations against him appeared to be thorough.

US INDICTS RUSSIANS IN WESTINGHOUSE HACKING

4 The United States on Thursday charged seven Russian intelligence officers with conspiring to hack computers and steal data from the nuclear energy company Westinghouse Electric Co. as well as anti-doping watchdogs, sporting federations and an international agency probing the use of chemical weapons. The charges of conspiracy to commit computer fraud and abuse and to commit wire fraud and money laundering came hours after Dutch authorities said they had disrupted an attempt by Russian intelligence agents to hack into the Hague-based Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons in April. That organization is tasked with probing the use of chemical weapons in Syria and the March 2018 poisoning of a former Russian military intelligence officer in the United Kingdom. The Justice Department said one of the Russian officers researched Westinghouse and its employees online and stole login credentials of Westinghouse workers for servers in the United States, including staff that work at its advanced nuclear reactor development and new reactor technology units.

APPLE, AMAZON DENY HARDWARE ATTACK REPORT

5 Apple Inc. and Amazon.com Inc. denied a Bloomberg report on Thursday that their systems had been infiltrated by malicious computer chips inserted by Chinese intelligence, according to statements from the companies released by Bloomberg. Bloomberg Businessweek cited 17 unidentified intelligence and company sources as saying that Chinese spies had placed computer chips inside equipment used by about 30 companies and multiple U.S. government agencies, which would give Beijing secret access to internal networks. Representatives of Apple, the FBI and Department of Homeland Security could not be reached for comment by Reuters. Beijing has previously denied allegations of orchestrating cyber attacks against Western companies. Apple said it had refuted "virtually every aspect" of the story in on-record responses to Bloomberg. "Apple has never found malicious chips, 'hardware manipulations' or vulnerabilities purposely planted in any server," the company said. Amazon Web Services (AWS) said it found no issues. Bloomberg said its report was accurate.

Republicans set vote on Kavanaugh as Democrats denounce report

The report may have swayed Sens. Flake and Collins.

GETTY IMAGES

Confidence grew among President Donald Trump's fellow Republicans on Thursday that Brett Kavanaugh would win Senate confirmation to the U.S. Supreme Court, after positive comments from two wavering lawmakers about an FBI report on accusations of sexual misconduct by the judge.

The report, sent by the White House to the Senate Judiciary Committee in the middle of the night, was denounced by Democrats as a whitewash that was too narrow in scope and ignored critical witnesses. But Republicans moved forward with plans for a key procedural vote on Friday and a final vote on Saturday on confirming the conservative federal appeals judge chosen by Trump for a lifetime job on the nation's top court.

The FBI report represented the latest twist in a pitched political battle over Kavanaugh, and comments by two crucial Republican senators — Jeff Flake and Susan Collins — indicated it may have allayed concerns they had about the judge. Flake was instrumental in getting Trump to order the FBI investigation last Friday.

Republicans control the Senate by a razor-thin margin, meaning the votes of those two could be crucial in securing Kavanaugh's confirmation.

Collins said the investigation appeared to be thorough. Flake said he saw no additional corroborating information against Kavanaugh, although he was "still reading" it.

A previously undecided Democratic senator, Heidi Heitkamp, said she would vote against Kavanaugh, citing "concerns about his past conduct" and questions about his "temperament, honesty and impartiality" after his angry, defiant testimony a week ago to the Senate Judiciary Committee. Heitkamp's decision left Sen. Joe Manchin as the only undecided Democrat.

Most Democrats opposed Trump's nomination of Kavanaugh from the outset. If confirmed, he would deepen conservative control of the court. The sharply partisan battle became an intense political drama when three women emerged to accuse Kavanaugh of sexual misconduct in the 1980s when he was in high school and college. Kavanaugh has denied the accusations.

"It smacks of a whitewash," Democratic Sen. Richard Blumenthal told reporters, saying the report should not give political cover for Republicans to vote for Kavanaugh because "it is blatantly incomplete." REUTERS

LGBTQ icon found dead in Riis Park

Ms. Colombia was a figure in the Jackson Heights community.

KRISTIN TOUSSAINT
kristin.toussaint@metro.us

Ms. Colombia was an LGBTQ icon around Jackson Heights, Queens. JIMMY VAN BRAMER

Beloved Queens LGBTQ figure Ms. Colombia was found dead on the shore of Jacob Riis Park in the Rockaways, NYPD said on Thursday.

Police found Ms. Colombia, who was born Osvaldo Gomez, around 3:30 in the morning at Rockaway Beach Boulevard and Beach 149 Street after responding to a 911 call.

Officials said they observed "no obvious signs of trauma," to the body. The medical examiner will determine the cause of death and the investigation remains ongoing, per NYPD.

Ms. Colombia was an "iconic figure in the LGBT community and beyond," New York City Council Member Daniel Dromm, whose district includes East Elmhurst, Elmhurst and Jackson Heights, said in a statement.

"She was beloved by all who saw her in the streets, at parades and in the neighborhood wearing her colorful outfits and a bird on her shoulder," Dromm said. "Her cheerfulness and ability to bring a smile to the faces of all who met her will be missed by all New Yorkers."

Ms. Colombia was well known in Jackson Heights and was featured in an eight-part mini-documentary series from 2015 called "No Your City," for which "extraordinary New York City street characters" were profiled.

She was originally from Colombia, where she was a lawyer, and moved to Queens in 1975 to pursue the same career. She was diagnosed with HIV in 1988, per the documentary, which prompted a change in her lifestyle where she wanted to live "day by day."

"They ask me: 'Are you homo? Are you gay? Are you lesbian?'" Ms. Colombia says in the documentary. "And I say: 'No, I am a human being from another planet.'

News of Ms. Colombia's death sparked sympathy from those in the Jackson Heights, Queens, community and beyond.

"We join the prideful LGBTQ community in Queens in mourning the loss of Ms. Colombia a.k.a. Osvaldo Gomez," the Caribbean Equality Project tweeted. New York City Council Member Jimmy Van Bramer added his condolences, saying online that he was so sad about Ms. Colombia's death.

"Ms. Colombia was not only at all parades in Jackson Heights & a beloved figure," he tweeted. "About 15 years ago I was at a Mets game at Shea Stadium & there was Ms. Colombia walking around defiant & proud!"

Dromm organized a memorial for Ms. Colombia to be held Friday at the Jackson Heights Post Office, 37th Avenue and 78th Street, at 7 p.m.

Discover fun

Christopher Columbus didn't discover America — there were already plenty of people here — but we won't say no to a three-day weekend. Here's 17 amazing things to do.

EVA KIS
eva.kis@metro.us

Take part in a 24-hour scavenger hunt
Questival puts you and up to five friends to the test with a 24-hour trek that will take you across the five boroughs to complete objectives — but, more importantly, see parts of the city you've never explored before. Your day ends with a free No Barriers concert/rally at Rumsey Playfield in Central Park featuring Ice-T, among others. Pre-race activities start Friday, Oct. 5 at 4:30 p.m. at the Intrepid Sea, Air and Space Museum, $48, cotopaxi.com

Spend an afternoon in Italy
Eataly Flatiron's seasonally changing Italian countryside-on-a-rooftop bar just changed from summer into Serra D'Autunno, with cascades of fall colors, cozy throws and tons of apples. There's a build-your-own cider stand, apple-themed cocktails and lots of shareable roasted veggies, cheeses and salumi alongside heartier dishes. eataly.com

King Kong takes over Broadway
It took five years to bring "King Kong" the musical from Australia to Broadway, but previews finally start on Friday, Oct. 5, giving you the first glimpse of the impressive 20-foot ape — who is entirely too lifelike thanks to a team of puppeteers — at the Broadway Theatre. kingkongbroadway.com

Celebrate #geeklife
Tickets sold out months ago, so you're either already spending your weekend at New York Comic Con or you're trying your luck on Craigslist. Godspeed, because NYCC 2018 promises plenty of can't-miss moments. At worst, you'll be sharing your train with some even more interesting characters than usual (just not on the 7 Line).

A fun-draiser for shelter animals
Help save shelter animals by taking your best four-legged friend on a walk during Strut Your Mutt on Hudson River Park's Pier 84. Join dog-loving celebs Elaine Hendrix, Holly Taylor and Joe Gatto for an early fundraiser walk, then enjoy a festival of activities like doggie yoga, a Smooch Your Pooch photo booth, live music and more. Saturday, Oct. 6, 9 a.m.-1 p.m., register at strutyourmutt.org

New York Pizza Festival PROVIDED

Eat all the pizza
New York is finally getting the real pizza festival it deserves. Bronx's Little Italy provides the setting, with over 30 pizzerias from around the country (and one direct from Naples) setting up along Crescent Avenue. Oct. 6-7, $25-$35, nycpizzafestival.com

Get immersed in foodie culture
The Infatuation's Eeeeeatscon is coming to New York for the first time, a food-meets-culture festival featuring over 20 of the restaurant-

"Heavenly Bodies" at the Met closes Oct. 8. EVA KIS review site's favorite local eats as well as big names from around the country. The learning comes in with panels of foodie speakers (plus Adam Rippon, why not) and live music. Saturday, Oct. 6, noon-6 p.m., Forest Hills Stadium, Queens, $30, theinfatuation.com

Attend the cutest church service
The Upper West Side's Cathedral of St. John the Divine holds its most adorable event of the year this Sunday. The 34th annual Feast of Saint Francis celebration begins with an eco-conscious mass, then a procession of animals right down the nave of the church. After the service, clergy will continue to bless pets outside on the Pulpit Green, plus performances, food trucks, activities for kids and more. Sunday, Oct. 7, 10:30 a.m.-4 p.m., stjohndivine.org

Never mind that Columbus guy
Let's be real, Christopher Columbus didn't discover America — there were already plenty of people living here and on the surrounding Caribbean islands. Instead of attending his parade on Monday, check out the festivities at the 54th annual Hispanic Day Parade (Sunday, Oct. 7, Fifth Avenue from 44th-66th streets) or the Queens Dominican Day Parade (Oct. 7, 37th Avenue from 69th-86th streets).

Watch monsters fight
Tokyo nightlife needs to be experienced to be believed, but you can get a taste of one of its beloved traditions — giant creatures fighting — at Kaiju Big Battel. The Bell House in Brooklyn sets up a boxing ring for mythical monsters and the brave heroes who would save us all from being toppled from the top of the food chain. Sunday, Oct. 7, $15-$30, thebellhouseny.com

Last chance: "Heavenly Bodies" at the Met
This weekend is your last chance to see the Met's truly glorious exhibit "Heavenly Bodies," with over 150 pieces of haute couture inspired by Catholicism from the likes of Christian Dior and Alexander McQueen and set in the museum's imposing Medieval Hall. Plus, you'll get up-close looks at some of the most spectacular official papal vestments in history at the Anna Wintour Costume Center. On Saturday and Sunday, you can see the exhibit before the museum opens with an EmptyMet ticket ($100). Through Monday, Oct. 8, at the Met, 1000 Fifth Ave., and the Met Cloisters, 99 Margaret Corbin Dr., metmuseum.org

The season's first ice rink opens
Rockefeller Center beats everyone to the ice skating game, switching up the plaza from a summery outdoor picnic area to the iconic ice rink beginning Monday, Oct. 8. A performance by two-time Olympian and New Yorker Kiira Korpi will begin the season at 9 a.m. Sessions are 1.5 hours and cost $25 plus $12.50 to rent skates, therinkatrockcenter.com

Watch the impossible
SXSW's Audience Award-winning film "The Dawn Wall" is returning to theaters on Monday, Oct. 8, and you don't want to miss the unbelievable but true story of free climber Tommy Caldwell as he tries to scale the most difficult section of El Capitan. AMC Times Square & Kips Bay, Regal Times Square & Union Square

THINGS TO DO WITH KIDS

Celebrate Halloween early at the Bronx Zoo
The Bronx Zoo's annual family-friendly Halloween party, "Boo at the Zoo," is going on all weekend, including Columbus Day (through Oct. 28) with magic shows, costume parades, music, games, a corn maze, hayrides, crafts and more. bronxzoo.com

Learn about indigenous heritage
Instead of celebrating Christopher Columbus colonizing the Americas, be part of a celebration of Native American culture on Randall's Island. The Indigenous People Celebrate is a two-day festival of song, art, food, performances by the Redhawk Dance Troupe and special events like a Sunrise Ceremony. Oct. 7, 11 a.m.-5 p.m., Oct. 8, 7 a.m.-4 p.m., randallsisland.org

Discover movie magic Astoria's Museum of the Moving Image opens its doors to youngsters age 17 and under for free on Fall Family Day, with activities for kids from age 2 and up all themed to the recently opened "Jim Henson Exhibition," like hands-on lessons in puppet making and a scavenger hunt. Oct. 7, 11 a.m.-4 p.m., $15 adults, movingimage.us

Explore the buses we once loved
New York City's mass transit system is faltering right now, so take a much-needed time warp to the past at the 25th annual Bus Festival in Brooklyn Bridge Park on Oct. 7. Climb aboard 80 years of surface transit history courtesy of the New York Transit Museum, with vintage buses to explore, special activities and photo ops, and bus driver meet-and-greets. Free, 10 a.m.-4 p.m., nytransitmuseum.org

Learn about Central Park's trees
Now that the leaves are changing, it's a great time to take a ramble through Central Park. Discovery Walk for Families is a free series that takes visitors on kid-friendly hikes all over the park. On Oct. 8 at 10 a.m., they're headed into the North Woods for Towering Trees. Must be age 5 or older, registration required, centralparknyc.org

GOOD MANNERS GO A LONG WAY
I am one of those people who say "you're welcome" when I hold the door open for someone who doesn't say "thank you" and I say it LOUDLY. I am not looking for gratitude. I hold the door open out of consideration, respect and good manners towards the person coming through behind me and I would expect that person to show the same respect and good manners towards me. If they are struggling with children, shopping bags, etc. then it is even more fitting that they should say "thank you". It's just good manners, something there's too little of these days.

Aries Listen to what's being said, but don't agree to something that isn't right for you. A problem that can affect your position should not be made in haste.

Taurus Change can stabilize your life if it's done properly. Consider what makes you happy, and spend time more time enjoying life and the company of loved ones.

Gemini An emotional situation must be handled delicately. Deceit or fancy words and unrealistic promises will not help matters, but a kind gesture made in good faith will.

Cancer Plan some fun with family or friends. A change will lead to an emotional connection that will help improve your current living situation. Romance is on the rise.

Leo Moderation will help you avoid unwanted change. You'll cause distress if you choose anger over compromise when trying to reach an agreement. Think matters through.

Virgo A change is warranted. Taking a trip or hanging out with people who have something interesting to offer will broaden your vision and give you incentive to do things differently.

Libra Turn today into a new beginning. With a positive attitude, you can enhance your life and improve relations with the people you care about most. Youngsters will motivate you.

Scorpio Take on a new look and make unique lifestyle changes. Surround yourself with people and tools that inspire you to be your best.

Sagittarius A getaway will do you good. Having a peaceful moment to go over your current situation and consider your next move will be calming and will result in positive action.

Capricorn A change at home or to your friend group will remind you why you like things to stay the same. Be careful what you wish for.

Aquarius No one knows you better than you know yourself. Don't follow someone else's lead when it's not right for you. Follow your intelligence, not your heart, and do what's best for you.

Pisces Make a financial change. Whether it involves how you earn your living, handle your investments or live, it will lead to greater cash flow and less stress. EUGENIA LAST

'Venom' director went to great lengths to make sure it was authentic to the comic

Ruben Fleischer talks us through his comic-book-inspired blockbuster. GREGORY WAKEMAN

Ruben Fleischer always knew that directing "Venom" would present him with a rare chance to make a unique comicbook movie.

"I was really excited to do a darker, grittier superhero movie," Fleischer tells Metro. "The opportunity that existed with this film was the chance to differentiate ourselves from all of the other comic-book movies out there."

But Fleischer quickly recognized that in order to do that he had to remain true and authentic to the "Venom" comics, even though he was missing one of the main components from the source material.

"We didn't want to short-change the fun factor of the comic book," says Fleischer. "Whether that's with the action, suspense or comedy, which some people will be surprised there's so much of in the film.

"That was my guiding principle throughout. I wanted to make sure that if we were making a 'Venom' movie that we were ultimately making it for the fans," he adds. "So I wanted to be sure that the movie we were making was as true and authentic to the comics as we could make it."

Since they weren't able to include Venom's arch-enemy Spider-Man in the movie, Fleischer admits that his team was "starting with a deficit, in terms of being true to the comics.

"In every other aspect, whether it was tonally or just giving nods to the comics, we really wanted it to be true to the comics as we could make it," says Fleischer.

The director's desired tone for "Venom" and the relationship between Tom Hardy's Eddie Brock and the alien symbiote that merges with his body was inspired by several movies. His biggest reference point being the 1981 cult classic "An American Werewolf In London," "which revolves around someone going through a transformation that they don't really understand.

"I wanted to make sure that if we were making a 'Venom' movie that we were ultimately making it for the fans"

"There's also a real theme of a buddy movie in our film," says Fleischer. "So I pulled from '48 Hours' and 'Midnight Run.'

"Where you get that sense of two characters that start out in opposition really going on a journey together and forging an unlikely friendship," he adds.

More specifically, though, Fleischer again insisted that its tone came straight from the "Venom" comics.

"It was always really important that the film was entertaining," says the director. "The first script I read for 'Venom' was really funny and had great jokes. So that was the tone from the beginning.

"But we all took our cues from the comics. Eddie and Venom have a complicated but also entertaining relationship."

"Venom" opens in theaters today.

'The Walking Dead' says goodbye to two of its mainstays

Heading into Sunday's season premiere of "The Walking Dead," fans of the AMC series already know that two of the most prominent characters are about to leave.

Rick Grimes and Maggie Rhee, played by Andrew Lincoln and Lauren Cohan, are on their way out. Both actors have been part of the show, adapted from a graphic novel, since the beginning.

In numerous interviews, the performers have explained their reasoning for their departures. Cohan told the Associated Press that she felt too "comfortable" playing Maggie. "Eight years is a really long time to be in those emotional depths," she said.

Lincoln, meanwhile, revealed to Entertainment Weekly that he and the producers have been planning his character's exit since at least Season 4. "I had a conversation during season four with Scott Gimple," he recalled. "We spoke about it and said, 'There's got to be a shape. We need a shape to work out if we get to Season 5, then maybe we've got a couple more.'"

The latter may return to the series as a director, but as for his and Cohan's characters, audiences have no idea why, how or when they will be leaving the show. Will either Rick or Maggie die? And if so, how? If one or both survives the series' constant onslaught of violence, however, how will the showrunners decide to handle their exits?

As for the reasoning behind the planned departure, Cohan recently hinted at one particular possibility in an interview with EW. Specifically, the actress indicated that Maggie and Rick may come to blows (of sorts) over a particular point of contention between them: the villainous

ALL PHOTOS BY AMC

Negan, played by Jeffrey Dean Morgan.

In the Season 7 premiere, Negan brutally murdered Maggie's husband Glenn (Steven Yeun) in front of her and everyone else. Despite this, once the survivors and their allies captured their captors, Rick let Negan live. The two haven't seen eye-to-eye ever since.

"I need to serve up to [Rick] my observation that his method of grief resolution isn't the same as mine," said Cohan. "He gets peace from doing what Carl wanted him to do, and that's great, but that's not doing anything for me. And how is Maggie going to pursue some kind of personal resolution? We're not saying it has to be revenge, but she definitely is still trying to find what it could be. Not revenge, but justice."

This doesn't mean that Maggie and Rick will duke it out in the end, but this is "The Walking Dead," so anything is possible.

The best places to watch Conor McGregor vs. Khabib Nurmagomedov in NYC

We've rounded up some of the best places for you to check out all of the action without the giant pay-per-view fees.

PAT KING
patrick.king@metro.us

This weekend will mark "Mystic Mac" Conor McGregor's return to the Ultimate Fighting Championship ring after his loss to equally controversial boxing champion Floyd Mayweather last summer.

This detour into boxing was ultimately a disapointment for fans of both mixed martial arts and the sweet science, as many called it a cash grab for both fighters.

Now, McGregor will return to the sport that made him one of the most captivating athletes in sports as he steps into the ring for UFC 229: Conor McGregor vs Khabib Nurmagomedov this weekend in Las Vegas.

While McGregor is as infamous for his offstage antics as he is for his in-the-ring attitude, he has been able to back up his actions, for the most part, with an impressive record of 21-3-0.

While many fighters try to work their way back into a sport after a period of absence, this seems like it is not the case for McGregor. His oppenent, Nurmagomedov, is one of the fiercest fighters in the sport with an astounding record of 26-0-0. It might be time for McGregor to put up or be shut up by the sport that kept moving after he decided to leave.

While the fight will cost you $69.99 for pay-per-view, we figured we would round up some of the best places to watch Conor McGregor vs Khabib Nurmagomedov in NYC without having to cram into your tiny apartment. But first ...

When is Conor McGregor vs Khabib Nurmagomedov?

The bout will take place Saturday, Oct. 6, after — true to any big money UFC fight — nine undercard fights.

Some of those notable fights include the lightweight bout between Tony Ferguson (23-3-0) and Anthony Pettis (21-7-0), and the light heavyweight match betwee Ovince Saint Preux (23-11-0) and Dominick Reyes (9-0-0). The whole night will kick off at 8 p.m.

Where to watch UFC 229 in and around NYC

Treadwell Park
Where: Three Locations: Downtown: 301 South End Avenue. Midtown: 508 West 42nd Street. Upper East Side: 1125 1st Avenue.
How much: Free
How can you argue with being able to watch McGregor vs. Nurmagomedov for absolutely nothing? Most bars will make you pay at least some sort of cover charge to watch such a high-profile fight, but not Treadwell Park. Instead you can save your money for beers, cocktails and fried chicken as you watch the fight on Treadwell's massive screens. And if the fight doesn't live up to the hype, you can always go play some pinball!

Kent Ale House
Where: 51 Kent Avenue, Brooklyn
How much: $20 entry. $100 for open bar.
Kent Ale House along Kent Ave in Williamsburg, Brooklyn will be hosting a Conor McGregor vs Khabib Nurmagomedov for those who wont mind drinking their fill during the fight. While $20 will get you through the door to see the fight, $100 will give you a reserved seats for the night and an open bar from 10pm to 1am with a basket of apps for every two guests.

Harborside Atrium
Where: 210 Hudson Street, Jersey City
How much: $25 per person
The short PATH train ride to Jersey City's Harborside will take you to another destination viewing spot. The massive bar, boardwalk food court and events space will be going for all out for the event, including a DJ, a cigar room, giveaways, a surprise UFC signing, a photo booth, food vendors and bartenders mixing up special cocktails. There will also be a giant bouncy boxing ring so you can challenge your friends for bragging rights as well as some prizes throughout the night.

The Shen Yun Symphony Orchestra looks to the past to find the future of classical music

PROVIDED

The symphony will perform a unique, one-time show at Carnegie Hall.

patrick.king@metro.us

In music, it usually takes looking back to the past in order to break new ground. That is exactly what the Shen Yun Symphony Orchestra has been able to do by blending traditional Chinese instruments with the bombast of a western classical symphony orchestra. The innovative orchestra will be at Carnegie Hall this Sunday, Oct. 7, for a single performance.

The Shen Yun Symphony Orchestra was formed in 2012 after audiences had clamored for the music of Shen Yun—the successful classical Chinese dance production—to be performed in a symphony concert after being blown away by the depth of emotion of the music and orchestration. The Shen Yun Symphony Orchestra is able to create unique harmonies by using traditional Chinese instruments such as the plucked pipa and the two-stringed erhu, which is known for its ability to mimic the human voice.

With these versatile instruments guiding the melodies floating above the dense and textured layers of western orchestration underneath, the Shen Yun Symphony Orchestra has been able to create something brand new from the traditional Chinese classical music that has a history dating back nearly 5,000 years.

"It's breathing fresh new life into ancient melodies," explains Pingyi Lee Noto, the marketing specialist for Shen Yun Promotions International. "It's a very special sound that people can experience. The western symphony orchestra focuses on the overall effect of the music ensemble while Chinese music emphasizes the expression of inner feelings through the exquisite sound of Chinese instruments. Shen Yun Symphony Orchestra is able to combine the strengths of both traditions and walk you through 5,000 years of history with this beautiful and harmonious sound."

Sunday's performance will consist of a balanced mix between both Western classics such as Sarasate's Carmen Fantasy performed with lead violinist Fiona Zheng as well as Shen Yun originals like The Tang Dynasty Training Ground that mixes the pounding rhythms of drums with the staccato sounds of the pipa to put the audience right on the battlefield.

So what will concert-goers leave thinking after this unique performance? According to Lee Noto, the culmination of the power and delicate melodies will be nothing short of transcendent and transformative. Which, as she explains, is true to Chinese tradition.

"The word medicine [in Chinese] actually came from music," she says. "Chinese people actually believe the sound can have healing power. The pentatonic scale the five sounds of Chinese music, correspond to the five elements and the five organs in your body."

The Shen Yun Symphony Orchestra will perform at Carnegie Hall this Sunday, Oct. 7, at 2 p.m. For ticket information, head over to shenyun.com/symphony/tickets.

A Sex Cream May Replace Popular Sex Pills for Men

Research shows a new topical may be a highly effective solution for men with failing sex lives; key ingredients activate special sensation pathways right below the skin, enhancing erections and triggering arousal

Daniel Watson
Medical News Today

BOSTON – The medical community now has a safer and more effective alternative to sex pills, which they can immediately start offering to male patients. It will not require a prescription.

The alternative, called Sensum+®, is an amazing new sex cream that activates a sensation pathway on the penis known as TRPA1.

When applied as directed, it leads to incredible arousal and much more satisfying erections.

It also promotes powerful climaxes and ultimately results in significant improvements in performance.

"Men can expect outstanding sexual improvements with regular use. The penis will become hyper sensitive, making them easily aroused and excitable" explains Dr. Henry Esber, the Boston based physician who introduced Sensum+® to market.

"And that's because Sensum+® does what no other sex pill or drug has done before – it stimulates a special sensory pathway right below the skin, which leads to phenomenal sensation."

Overtime, constant exposure (especially if circumcised) leads to decreased penis sensitivity, which can cause problems with arousal and erection quality. There just isn't enough feeling to get excited."

"Diabetes, anti-depressants and normal aging also leads to desensitization, a can make the situation even worse."

"This is what makes Sensum+® so effective and why the clinical studies and clinical use studies have been so positive."

MISDIAGNOSIS LEADS TO UNEEDED PRESCRIPTIONS

After years of clinical research and testing, Dr. Esber and his team have discovered an incredible compound that triggers arousal while helping men achieve erections more easily.

This compound isn't a drug. It's the active ingredient in Sensum+®.

And according to users, it produces sensational results. Many men report remarkable improvements in sexual performance and overall satisfaction.

They are more sexually active than they've been in years with the average Sensum+® user over the age of 50.

According to research, many men adults and seniors who suffer sexually have lost sensation in their penis due to constant rubbing and exposure and health related issues such as diabetes, hernia surgery, use of some anti-depressants, multiple sclerosis, and other type of illnesses.

This desensitization often makes sex extremely challenging. Without a 100% feeling in the penis, its next to impossible to get truly aroused.

Worse, modern day sex drugs have absolutely no effect on sensation and are laden with side effects. They simply stimulate an erection by enhancing blood flow.

It's why most men are rarely satisfied after taking them and why Sensum+® users are always stocking up on more and couldn't be happier.

"We knew the science behind Sensum+® was there, but we never expected results like we're seeing. It's far exceeded our expectations" said a spokesperson for the company.

A STAGGERING 80% IMPROVEMENT IN SENSATIVITY

Researchers have conducted several clinical studies on Sensum+® and the results from the most recent are undoubtedly the most impressive.

A data analysis of three clinical surveys of 370 men showed that an amazing 80% of Sensum+® users experienced dramatic improvements while using the cream and as a result were aroused easier and a phenomenal boost in performance.

Additionally, 77.4% of men also reported much more satisfying climaxes, making sex for both them and their partners nearly 300% more satisfying.

"I have full feeling and sensitivity back in my penis. Everything feels better. My erections are harder, I'm more easily aroused, I can finally climax again. This stuff honestly works like magic in the bedroom. I couldn't be happier at 66!" raves one Sensum+® user.

HOW SENSUM + ® WORKS

Sensum+® is a new sex cream for men that's to be applied twice a day for the first two weeks then just once every day after.

There are no harmful side effects for either the user or partner. It also does not require a prescription.

The active ingredient is an organic compound known as cinnamaldehyde with a patented combination of sexually rousing extracts.

Research shows that as men get older, they often lose sensitivity to the penis.

Although very subtle, this desensitization can significantly hinder sexual performance and lead to serious problems with becoming aroused and staying/getting hard.

The cinnamaldehyde in Sensum+® is one of the only known ingredients to activate a special sensation pathway on the penis called TRPA1. Once activated, it restores tremendous sensation to the penis, stimulating arousal and powerful erections.

NEW SEX CREAM MAY REPLACE POPULAR SEX PILLS: This new patented clinically proven arousal cream is now available nationwide.

This would explain why so many users are experiencing impressive results so quickly and why the makers of Sensum+® offer their low cots cream with an amazing guarantee.

GUARANTEE DISCOUNTED SUPPLY TAKES RISK OFF CONSUMERS

A large percentage of men report life changing results with Sensum+®. That's why it is now being sold with an above-industry standard guarantee.

"We can only make this guarantee because we are 100% certain this cream works," says Esber.

"We want to take risk off the consumers. So besides offering massive discounts, we're also offering this guarantee, so they don't have to risk a cent."

Here's how it works: Use the cream exactly as directed and in just one week, you must feel a significant improvement in sexual sensations. You must be more easily aroused with harder, longer lasting erections and be having the best sex you've had in years.

Otherwise, simply return the empty bottles. Then, the company will refund your money immediately.

HOW TO GET SENSUM + ®

This is the official release of Sensum+®. As such, the company is offering a special discounted supply to any reader who calls within the next 48 hours.

MLB's best rivalry returns

Yankees, Red Sox to meet in postseason for first time in 14 years at ALDS.

JOE PANTORNO
joseph.pantorno@metro.us

One of the greatest rivalries in sports is dormant no longer.

The New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox, AL East rivals, will meet in the best-of-five American League Divisional Series, beginning Friday night from Fenway Park. It's just the fourth time ever that the two clubs will meet in the postseason, and the first since the 2004 American League Championship Series.

After a brief hiatus, the two are back atop the American League and this is the best they've ever been at the same time. In the 115-year rivalry, the Yankees and Red Sox had never won 100 games in the same season. That changed this year as Boston put up a franchise-record 108 while the Yankees had 100.

As Major League Baseball's best regular-season team, the Red Sox enter the postseason with an obvious target on their back. The end of their regular season didn't do a lot to gain much confidence heading into the playoffs as they went 5-7 in their last 12 games, including a series loss to the Yankees last week in which they dropped two of three.

Still, this is a Red Sox team loaded with talent.

On the mound, Chris Sale had another brilliant season, posting a 2.11 ERA in 27 starts while Rick Porcello and David Price contributed 17 and 16 wins respectively.

At the plate, Boston's two-headed monster of J.D. Martinez and Mookie Betts could very well be the best in the league.

Martinez turned in a monster season that will surely garner MVP consideration with a .330 average, 43 home runs and a league-leading 130 RBI. Betts is this year's MLB batting title champion, a .346 average, 16 points better than the second-place Martinez — not to mention he added 32 home runs and 80 RBI.

But the Yankees have an unexpected power trio that will give the Sox a run for their money.

Giancarlo Stanton, who led the team with 38 home runs and 100 RBI, has gotten his bash brother Aaron Judge back and healthy. Both players went deep in the Yankees' 7-2 win over the Oakland Athletics in the American League Wild Card Game on Wednesday night.

The third Yankee basher is Luke Voit, a little-known first baseman who was acquired from the St. Louis Cardinals at the deadline. While Voit couldn't hammer down regular playing time in the National League, he's become one of the Yankees' most powerful bats, launching 14 home runs in just 39 games.

New York also saw a promising result in Luis Severino's performance in the Wild Card. The Yankees struggling ace was solid against Oakland as he didn't allow a single hit through his first four innings of work.

The move to start Severino paid off for manager Aaron Boone as he will now have J.A. Happ, who has gone 7-0 with a 2.69 ERA since being acquired from the Toronto Blue Jays in July, available for two starts against the Sox. He was 1-1 with a 1.99 ERA against Boston in four starts this year.
